THE AVIATION MAINTENANCE TECHNICIAN (AMT) EDUCATIONAL SAFETY SEMINARS

Dear AMT,

The Sacramento FSDO continues to expand its safety seminar series for you out there, the working aviation mechanic. This maintenance newsletter will continue to be distributed quarterly.

Many aviation maintenance directors often state that AMT's are the "Unsung Hero's of Aviation." Why? Because AMT's must stay up-to-date with the latest high-tech changes affecting aviation maintenance yet remain responsible and accountable for the airworthiness of the aircraft he/she is maintaining.

The aviation industry must depend upon the AMT to maintain high maintenance standards. Maintaining this standard may be accomplished through continuous education and we here at the Sacramento FSDO desire to provide you a venue for that educational goal. Technical assistance and educational review of regulatory requirements will be emphasized at all our seminars. I encourage you to ask any maintenance questions you'd like answered. Your participation will ensure continued success for all of us involved in aviation maintenance safety.

As your NEW Sacramento FSDO Safety Program Manager (Airworthiness), I am looking forward to meeting with you and discussing the varied topics that are planned throughout the year.
